SUMMIT CLASSROOM PROGRAM POLICIES AND PROCEDURES & REGISTRATION FORM

Refund Policy: Students who register for the class but withdraw prior to the start of the first session will receive a full refund of the program price. Students who withdraw after the first session but prior to the start of the second session will receive a refund of the program price, minus $100. Students who withdraw after the second session but prior to the start of the third session will receive a refund of the program price, minus $150. No refund will be granted once the third session begins. Please note that you must contact the Summit office directly to withdraw from the program. Refunds will be based on the date of the call and not on the number of sessions the student has actually attended.

Behavior Policy: All students enrolled in a Summit course must maintain appropriate behavior at all times. Students must adhere to all school rules and regulations, respect their classmates and teachers, and contribute to a positive learning environment. Summit will not provide refunds to students expelled for behavioral reasons.

Extended Time: Students who have received approved extended time on the test from The College Board should contact the Summit Office to discuss alternate accommodations. Please call us at 1-800-MYTUTOR (800-698-8867)

Attendance/Make-Up Sessions: The schedule of classes has been pre-arranged with the host location. Students are required to attend each session. If a student must miss a practice test session, we will mail the test home for the student to complete. For more information on making up missed content, log in to our online portal following the missed class to read instructors' notes, or speak with the class instructor(s) directly. Summit will not offer makeup classes for missed lessons.

Class Cancellations: If classes are cancelled at the school, our classes will also be cancelled. School cancellations will be announced by the school. Summit will email parents and students of a class cancellation as soon as we have that information. Students and parents can visit mytutor.com/students/snow for up-to-date class cancellation information. The class will be made up at the next available opportunity.

Materials: Students are responsible for bringing supplies for personal use, such as pencils and calculators. Summit will provide all other course materials. Course materials will be distributed to students during the first instructional session of the class.

Score Increase Commitment: We are confident that you will not find a more effective SAT preparation program, and we are willing to put our results up against those of any of our competitors. Should a student not realize an increase* in his or her combined score following the completion of the Summit program, we extend the following offer: the student may retake the class for free the next time it is offered or may choose to have two free One-on-One Tutoring sessions with a Summit tutor. To qualify for our offer the student must attend every session and complete all assigned homework.

Score Increase is calculated as follows: Starting score must be from most recent official PSAT or SAT taken prior to our program. Finishing score must be from the first official SAT offered following the completion of our program.*
